

A blessing in disguise: Something that seems bad but turns out good

Beat around the bush: Avoid saying something directly

Break the ice: Start a conversation

Call it a day: Stop working for now

Cut corners: Do something cheaply or badly

Hit the sack: Go to sleep

Let the cat out of the bag: Reveal a secret

Miss the boat: Miss an opportunity

Once in a blue moon: Very rarely

Piece of cake: Very easy

Under the weather: Feeling sick

Hit the nail on the head: Exactly right

Burn the midnight oil: Work late into the night

Bite the bullet: Force yourself to do something difficult

Cost an arm and a leg: Very expensive

Sit on the fence: Not making a decision

Break a leg: Good luck

Spill the beans: Reveal secret information

Throw in the towel: Give up

On cloud nine: Very happy

A dime a dozen: Very common

Back to square one: Start again

Bend over backwards: Try very hard to help

Burn bridges: Destroy relationships

Get cold feet: Become nervous

Go the extra mile: Make extra effort

In the same boat: In same situation

Kick the bucket: To die (informal)

Pull someone's leg: Joke with someone

See eye to eye: Agree completely

Speak of the devil: The person appears while being talked about

The ball is in your court: Your decision now

Time flies: Time passes quickly

Touch wood: Hope for good luck

Actions speak louder than words: What you do matters more than what you say

At the drop of a hat: Immediately

Bite off more than you can chew: Take on too much

Break the bank: Cost too much

By the book: Follow rules strictly

Give someone the cold shoulder: Ignore someone

Hit the road: Leave

Keep an eye on: Monitor something

Leave no stone unturned: Search thoroughly

Make ends meet: Manage financially

On the fence: Undecided

Out of the blue: Unexpectedly

The best of both worlds: All advantages

Turn a blind eye: Ignore something wrong

Up in the air: Not decided yet